Important Disclosure Information

A different repayment plan may help. The availability of other plans depends on several factors, including your loan type, when you borrowed the money, and the amount of time left in repayment. Such plans could include reduced monthly payments, a graduated or extended repayment period, or a repayment amount that's based on your income.

To learn more about your options, visit mygreatlakes.org/go/lowerpayments or call (800) 236-4300. Some calls may be monitored or recorded for quality assurance purposes.

The Department of Education's website 😉 also provides information about options that may be available to you.

Current and prospective borrowers are entitled to receive any student loan-related communication or document in an accessible, alternative format. Borrowers interested in receiving student aid forms, student loan statements, notices, written communications, and publications in alternative formats should contact us directly at (800) 236-4300 or by email at accessibility@mygreatlakes.org. Great Lakes offers various alternative formats such as Braille, large print, audio CD, and digital navigable formats supported by computers and digital talking-book players, delivered through data CD, email, or other electronic means.

The amount of the last payment you made on a Great Lakes-serviced account and the date the payment was effective.

When you provide a check as payment, you authorize us either to use information from your check to make a one-time electronic fund transfer from your account or to process the payment as a check transaction. When we use information from your check to make an electronic fund transfer, funds may be withdrawn from your account as soon as the same day we receive your payment, and you will not receive your check back from your financial institution.

We may report information about your account to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults on your account may be reflected in your credit report.
